INAUGURAL ADDRESS

OF HON. ALFRED C. WYATT, MARCH 23, 1909.

Gentlemen of the City Council:

Agreeably to the provisions of the city charter, we assemble here today to organize the city government and elect the officers who are to be chosen for the ensuing year.

Ten members of the present council have already served one or more terms in this capacity and bring to us the benefit of their experience, as a guide in the various matters which will be brought to our attention as well as in the routine work.

In the proper administration of the financial affairs of our city, so as to give our citizens the necessary improvements that are required, and to maintain those already made, without increasing the present tax rate is the largest single problem you will probably be required to work out.

While I do not wish to see the present tax rate increased, I wish to call your attention to the fact, that in nearly every year since we became a city, we have not raised enough money to meet our running expenses, and by the last report of our financial condition, we have accumulated a floating debt of over seventy-seven thousand dollars; some of this may appear as a matter of book-keeping, but there are some over fifty thousand dollars borrowed on notes which vary in the rate of interest from three to four per cent., in other words averaging a little less than three and one-half per cent., which is a low rate of interest. But as it is more than probable that in a short time the rate will advance, I would respectfully recommend that fifty thousand dollars of this indebtedness be bonded at three and one-half per cent.; these bonds I am informed could be sold at par, or perhaps a little better, and would insure us against any increase in our interest charges. The exact form of these bonds will be a matter for your finance committee to work out. In this connection, I wish to impress on your minds that no individual would so conduct his business affairs as to make a loss for a succession of years, and I trust that in making our appropriations, we shall be at all times guided by the amount of money we have on hand.

I hope that no resolution appropriating money, or any contract which may call for an appropriation at some future time, will be passed under a suspension of the rules.

During the past year, we have made good progress in the improvement of our highways and sidewalks along permanent lines, and I hope you will continue on the same plan for the present year, by allowing the board of public works as liberal an appropriation as possible without detriment to the other departments of our city organization.

I trust you have all read the last report of our city and are familiar with what the various departments estimate their requirements for the present year.

The recommendations of the finance committee will also be before you for a guide. It is your duty to study these and from them to make up the appropriations in such a manner as to give to each department their just amount of the money in your hands, keeping in view always the greatest good for the greatest number, remembering that we are the servants of the citizens of Laconia and must work for their interest collectively.

In assuming the duties of the high office to which I have been elected, I am not unmindful of the responsibilities it brings with it. I trust that while we may at times differ honestly in our opinions of what is for the best interest of the people whom we are here to serve, we may close our labors at the end of our official year with the full satisfaction that our acts have merited their approval.

Gentlemen of the council, I am now ready to proceed with the business of this session.

Department Reports

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

To the Citizens of Laconia:

In submitting our report for the year, we would respectfully call your attention to the reports of the superintendent of schools and other teachers and officers herewith submitted, where full information can be obtained of the present condition of the work being performed and of the general welfare of our school department.

During the past year we have been quite free from contagious diseases and but little time lost from inclement weather, so that we may truly say that in the matter of attendance and the interest shown by the scholars in their work, the year has been a very pleasant and successful one.

Our school buildings are in very good condition and outside of the usual repairs necessary to keep them in proper shape, no great outlay is at present required. We would, however, again call attention to the boiler in the High school building. This boiler has now been in use twenty-four years and is in bad condition, and should either be new tubed and thoroughly repaired or a new one installed. From its present condition nothing more need to be said, but immediate steps taken to either repair it or replace it with a new one.

The increase in the number of scholars in The Weirs school, while it gives great satisfaction to see this school growing, leads to but one conclusion, and that is more room must be provided to take care of the growth. An addition to this building will without doubt have to be made and another teacher employed, as this being an ungraded school makes it very difficult for one teacher to handle so many of all sizes, from the beginner in the first grade to final preparation for High school work, and get satisfactory results.

Quite a serious condition confronts your board in the matter of salaries for teachers. While we are all interested to keep down the matter of expense to the lowest possible point, the welfare of our children requires that only the best possible teaching force be employed; and in order to do this sufficient funds must be given us to not only be in a position to employ the best, but to so arrange it that we may be able to retain them. We lost our principal of the High school, Mr. Williams, through this fact, that we were unable to pay him what his services could command elsewhere. The new state law passed by the last legislature provides for payment to certain towns the sum of two dollars per week for each teacher who may be a normal graduate and employed as a teacher, and this enables a town close to us to pay a teacher more than we have been paying and compels us to raise our salaries in order to keep a good teacher. This is a queer condition to say the least when we consider that the amount the state pays we are taxed our proportion for in addition to paying our own teaching force.

We would earnestly ask the parents and citizens generally to more frequently visit the schools. You will find much that will interest and please you, and nothing helps a teacher more and adds interest in the school work than these visitations.

While we fully appreciate the desire of the members of the city council to work with us for the good of our school department, we feel that enough more funds should be given us to meet the existing conditions, that the very best results may be obtained for our children, the greater part of whom complete what education they receive right here at home.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Education:

I have the honor to transmit to you my thirteenth annual report of the public schools of this city. There accompany it the usual statistical tables, reports of special instructors, principal of the High school, and truant officer. It covers statistically the full school year, ending July 1st, 1909, and one table of material drawn from the teachers' registers, ending December 17, 1909.

In regard to the scholastic work as outlined in our course of study, I believe it to be thoroughly covered and pretty closely adhered to, and only such changes have been made as experience and reasonable growth call for.

The total enrollment is only a little larger than last year, while the average attendance is somewhat less, being .97 for 1907-1908 and .96 for 1908-1909, both of which averages are exceptionally large.

I wish to call your particular attention to the fact that something must soon be done to increase the school accommodations at The Weirs. We have reached a reasonable limit there. The single room is small at best, and it is now almost packed with pupils. More seats sent up there from time to time from this end of the city have completely filled the floor space until now the limit has been reached. Provision for another room should be made and the school divided. There is a constant and healthy growth in this part of our city and the school population should be educated here up to the High school grade. For several years we have been sending to Lakeport 9th grade pupils, who have reached that grade at The Weirs. This has been done on account of lack of facility in accommodation and proper division into grades. It is practically impossible to fit pupils for High school in a rural one-room school of thirty-five or more scholars.

At present Mrs. George has 41 pupils registered. How many more will be pressing for admission another year I do not know at this writing, but it is reasonable to suppose there will be some. With a two-room building and two teachers, dividing the work into primary and grammar grades, a very material benefit would accrue.

At this point it may be best to call attention to the boiler at the High school building. It has been in use twenty-four years. There have been one or two new tubes put into it. How soon it may cause us real trouble, no one knows, but it is said that the life of a boiler of this kind under ordinary usage is only from twelve to fifteen years. That it has lasted twenty-four, shows either good usage or superior material.

During the year repairs have been made at Gilford avenue, Harvard street and The Weirs in the nature of painting or tinting. A ventilator has been placed in the High school hall, which it is hoped will fill a long felt want in the way of cooling the room during the warmer months of the year as well as to carry off the vitiated air.

In taking a survey of the needs of our pupils, we find that the same call exists with us precisely as elsewhere. There is a certain number of our grammar school pupils who find nothing in our High school courses which they need or can ever use. They cannot go to college, and to enter the High school and spend four years there in any one of the five courses we offer, merely gives them what has so long been termed "mental training" only. Our best educators are pronouncing this more or less a myth and demanding that something more substantial shall be supplied than courses that furnish "mental training." There is also that very large loss of pupils from the High school, non-graduates, a number larger than the graduates, people who never appear upon the commencement stage, and as far as reaching any ultimate goal is concerned might just as well not have been in the running. Are we doing all we should for these two classes mentioned, viz., grammar pupils who do not enter High school and High school pupils who do not graduate? As I have indicated, the reason why we cease to educate them is because we do not present the kind of education adapted to their needs. That this is an industrial age has been said so often that we are fairly surfeited by hearing it, but that we have adapted our educational system to such an age is absolutely untrue, for the system upon which our present courses are modeled has been slowly evolved during a great many years. It is true we have added music, drawing, physiology, etc., systematized the work, strained every mental faculty and fiber in teacher and pupil to teach and learn both the facts and philosophy of ancient history, higher mathematics, Latin, French, German and Greek, but it has been done under the lash in the hand of the college authorities. Is it not about time to find a new mold for the wits of our children, such as would make them masters of some valuable knowledge which will help them materially along the pathway of life, that pathway apart from the so-called learned professions and over which the great proportion of all of us travel?

Some of the courses we now have I would keep for those who need them, but for the others in the classes mentioned should we not have something different? The signs of the times should not go unheeded, in Laconia.

I believe you do well to maintain a system of nine grades below the High school, rather than to adopt a policy so frequent elsewhere of dropping out the upper grammar grade entirely. The ninth grade is the choicest school year in our whole educational system. It is that period of the child's life when he can assimilate knowledge most readily; he has prospective and experience, can review old subjects, grasp new ones with astonishing ease. To specialize here is a mistake, an all-round training during this year does much to fix facts and principles that would have been lost had he left school at the end of the eighth year, or become a hopeless jumble had he entered the High school a year sooner.

The per cent. of failures of promotion has not been large during the year. This has been particularly gratifying in the case of the High school. It has always been a belief of your superintendent that pupils properly fitted for the High school and with average ability should be taught well enough and given sufficient help in their work, and more than all else held up to that standard of discipline and steadfastness of purpose, that practically the same general progress can be made as in the grammar grades, that no suggestion of irresponsibility or diletanteism must appear to frustrate the purposes of the school and defeat its aims. If this can be done to better advantage in a private fitting school than in a public High school, it is because the former has control of its pupils and all their interests for twenty-four hours in the day, while we are restricted to a quarter of that time. The parents of our High school pupils must learn to understand how necessary it is to regard the High school course of their sons or daughters as a business which can not be encroached upon by social duties or any other interests which entail fatigue or late hours. To what a degree of success our High school teachers have reached in their part of our problem, the following table abundantly shows:

A total of twenty-six failures in all subjects compared with sixty of the year before is gratifying to me, and I only hope this good work may continue.

The changes in the teaching force since my last report have been as follows: Miss Flagg of the Batchelder street school resigned at the end of the year and Miss Nellie A. Holahan was asked to take her place, while Miss Georgia M. Stevens of Concord took Miss Holahan's former school. Miss E. Blanche Sarson was granted a year's leave of absence and Miss Lillian G. Stevens is now teaching for her. The greatest number of changes of the year took place at Washington street school, where the untimely death of Jennie P. Tucker, on the morning of May 18th, shocked the entire community. Miss Tucker's death removed a faithful and loyal teacher, and this was followed later by the resignation of both Misses Buffum and Hackett. You were fortunate in placing the ninth grade in this building in the hands of so capable a teacher as Miss Margaret O'Shea, while the third and fourth grades were given in charge to Miss Mary G. Fletcher and the first and second grade room was intrusted to Miss Estella F. Foss. Miss J. Hazel Duke succeeded Miss Mary Wight at Gilford avenue, who resigned for the second time from our teaching force, much to our regret.

The vacancy committee of your board has seen fit to advance the salaries of several of our teachers in order that the services of teachers of such experience might be retained for our city. It has been quite a few years since an advance has been granted in any general way outside the High school force. To my mind this was justified and should be continued, having especially in view the individual merit of each teacher.

In this connection, I wish to call your attention to the school law 1909, 158:3, a law relative to the distribution of state aid to towns employing normal graduates or others holding a permanent state certificate. In practice it works out that a town that is paying its teachers as much as we do our primary teachers, viz., ten dollars per week, since the state grants them two dollars a week for such teachers certificated as above, immediately advances them to twelve dollars per week. This brings it about that Laconia pays its teachers ten dollars per week, while towns aided by the state pay twelve dollars for exactly the same service. Laconia helps them pay the bill, while its own teachers get along for ten dollars or have until this year, and many do now. It takes only a glance to show that more money must go into the pay roll if we expect to retain our teachers from the grasp of those towns having state aid.

Many of our general expenses are kept at as low a figure as is consistent with the best interests of the schools. The purchase of books and supplies has been liberal and the High school equipment has been still further strengthened during the year. New music books and charts have been placed in the primary schools. The cost of fuel for the past two years has been somewhat reduced, not on account of lower prices, but by a more careful handling of our heating plants by the janitors, who are a large factor in the proper care of our buildings. Good janitor service is a great help towards good schools.

In conclusion, I wish to express my appreciation of the work done by our teachers, one and all, and to extend my thanks to you, gentlemen of the board of education, for your ever ready and cordial support.

REPORT OF PRINCIPAL OF HIGH SCHOOL.

Mr. J. H. Blaisdell, Superintendent of Schools:

Sir: I herewith submit the report for the thirty-fourth year of the Laconia High school, being my second report.

For the remainder of the school year 1908-09, following the last report, the work progressed very pleasantly until June 18, 1909, when a class of thirty-five were given diplomas of graduation.

The present school year opened September 7 with a total of 151 registrations. Since that time several have entered and a few dropped out. The cause of this falling off in numbers is found in the fact of a large graduating class in 1909 and a very small entering class this year.

During the summer, two changes in the teaching force were made. Miss Martha L. Atkinson and Miss Elizabeth M. O'Shea were chosen for the vacancies left by Miss Hall and Miss Andrews. The remaining members of last year's faculty are with us this year. It is very unfortunate to be obliged to shift the teaching force in a school so often as we did last year. The work of the year is broken up and no one feels satisfied with the year's accomplishment.

After a severe effort last year all along the line it was very gratifying to know at the end, that our school had received the unconditioned approval of the state superintendent. This places us where we ought to be, among the first schools of the state.

If we are to remain among the schools of high rank, however, we absolutely must have forty weeks of school during the year. The Massachusetts High schools have forty or more and do no more and no better work than we. It can be done at a very small extra expense and the quality of work that we can do will be of a much higher grade. In the work of the physics department alone we are about twenty hours behind the recommendations of the college authorities.

When our efficiency can be so greatly increased at so small an expense, it seems "penny wise and pound foolish" to delay this step any longer.

In my last report I suggested the need of an adequate place for athletic work and practice. I repeat my plea this year for some place where we can do winter work with the boys and where we can furnish some sort of regular exercise for the girls. Our school must not develop one side of our pupils only. It must look out for their physical upbuilding and teach them proper physical as well as proper mental habits. As it is now, a minimum of care is shown the boys on the athletic teams of the school, and the other members of the school get not even a thought as to their physical welfare.

The ventilator which has been installed in the general assembly hall has proven all we anticipated. The ventilating system in the building is not at all perfect now, but the air is very noticeably better since this ventilator has been at work.

The heating system is as poor, or even worse, than ever. There have been days this winter when the thermometers in the different rooms have not reached seventy degrees until noon and not because the janitor is inefficient either, but simply because the old pipes are so rusted and clogged that steam has to thread its way as through a labyrinth, and it takes a long time for steam to drive out cold under these circumstances. I am very sure the cost of a thorough overhauling would, in a short time, be met by the saving in coal.

During the past year, we have been able to secure an excellent equipment for the work in physics and chemistry. We have also added a number of reference books to our library of works on history. We need duplicate copies of some of these and a few other new reference books. No doubt these will be forthcoming when actually needed.

There have been some changes this year in the method of work. Believing that work well planned is half done already, we have carefully outlined the work required of each teacher in the work of that department.

These outlines are not necessarily perfect, ideal or rigid. They are merely a convenient basis for work and are subject to change at any time upon mutual consent. We have found them very helpful.

During the first eight weeks of school it was found in the English department that our pupils could not, or would not, spell correctly. Considerable thought and care was given the condition, and finally a list of some over two hundred words was made up from the written work of the pupils, and from this list, spelling lessons were begun. The work has progressed only far enough to prove that the pupils can spell, but are too lazy to exercise the proper care. We are trying to remove the cause now by not accepting carelessly executed papers even for a first reading. We hope to make some progress in securing better English papers.

The correspondence system with Germans across the water, started last year, was a very pleasing success for the few who were favored. Nine pupils, I believe, have received letters establishing a correspondence between our school and various parts of Germany. The method has done much to vitalize and make real the work in German. Plans are now on foot for a series of letters to pass between our school and some of the young people of France.

The Lakonian is still published by the pupils. Thanks are due the merchants of the city for their generosity in advertising, thus helping to make the paper possible. Surely we may feel proud of our paper and give it our loyal support when we know how much benefit is derived by the pupils from it and when we know the exchanges consider it one of the best of High school papers, as so many of them have said. It is hoped that the citizens may feel moved to help us out by yearly subscriptions and by contributions during this coming year.

The attendance record for the past year was fair. We hope to make a better record this year. Illness is the only reasonable excuse for absence, and we hope the parents will coöperate with us to secure constant attention from the children.

The record for tardiness increased very much last year. One reason for this may have been the difference in clocks, but in my opinion much of it can be prevented if pupils and parents will consider the matter as really of a serious nature. It is extremely important for pupils to acquire the habit of punctuality. Many a battle, many a position, many a dollar, is lost, because the man or woman has not learned the importance of being on time.

The spirit of the school this year is really very good. There is a seriousness about the efforts of the large majority that is very encouraging. Many are led to do this because they are looking toward attendance at college. Others are doing this because they realize the value of acquiring serious mental habits.

Of last year's class of thirty-five, three are back here doing post-graduate work, fifteen are pursuing their intellectual efforts along advanced lines and two more expect to go away next fall. Of this present senior class of twenty-eight, fourteen have indicated their intention of advanced work along educational lines and there are a few others who are seriously considering doing the same.

In spite of this most excellent showing we lose, every year, some mighty good material from our school for no other reason than that college seems so far away and vague, the recompense of the college graduate seems so uncertain, the few dollars a week to be earned as clerk or employee seem so near and so certain; the work of higher education is so uncongenial, we have nothing of a vocational sort to offer them, so they go out into the world uncultured and untrained. We do need and we must have very soon, an industrial course of some sort. We hope it may come this next year cost what it may.

This year the graduating class expects to go to Washington, D. C., on a sight-seeing and pleasure trip. This has much to recommend it, and we all feel very much pleased to think of the broadening, educative effect of such a trip upon our young people.

Sometime before the school closes this June, we expect to have ready for distribution a year book of our school, containing information as to its pupils, teachers, courses, school officers, and general information in regard to the school.

In closing this report I wish to thank you and the board of education for your loyal support of my plans and for the kindly and helpful advice given. I also wish to express to my teachers my appreciation of their loyalty to me and my plans, as well as their unceasing and tireless efforts in behalf of the pupils.

Very respectfully submitted,

L. A. WILLIAMS,

Principal.

REPORT OF MUSIC TEACHER.

Mr. J. H. Blaisdell, Superintendent of Schools:

In my last report I spoke of the trial being given the books of the "Harmonic Music Course" in four of our second grades and suggested that if results were satisfactory these books would replace the "Normal Music Course" which has been in use for some years. The "Harmonic" books have proved good where we tried them, and so at the beginning of this school year all the first three grades were supplied with the books, charts and music books of the course; and as these third grade classes advance a grade they will be supplied with material for fourth year work and so on until it is in use through the whole system.

This course, by the way, is an almost ideal combination, containing as it does scales for vocal drill, which are selected from the works of the greatest authorities on these subjects, and it seems should be invaluable in promoting clear and rapid enunciation and articulation and at the same time cultivate a pure and musical quality of tone.

Other strong features are the attention paid to ear training (which includes changing Do, oral tonal dictation and oral metric dictation) and eye training (which includes written tonal dictation and written metric dictation). The charts have some most excellent interval drill work and the exercises, both with and without words, completes this most splendid course. The work throughout the city is in better condition than I have ever seen it.

Many of the songs sung by the upper grades, particularly the ninth grades, have in addition to the voice parts, a piano accompaniment. This in many compositions is as important as any of the parts for voices and when performed without accompaniment must be incomplete, and so at some time a piano should be placed in each ninth grade room.

Last winter the High school chorus gave a concert, assisted by the girls' quartet, the boys' quartet and the orchestra. On last Memorial day a small chorus again furnished music at the G. A. R. exercises.

The best work of the year, however, was at the graduating exercises, when the chorus sang the cantata, "The Village Blacksmith," by Noyes.

To all school officials, to all the teachers who have worked so faithfully, and to all others who in different ways have made my year a pleasant one, I extend my grateful thanks.

Respectfully submitted,

FRED H. OSGOOD,

Superintendent of Music.

REPORT OF DRAWING TEACHER.

Mr. J. H. Blaisdell, Superintendent of Schools:

In submitting this report of drawing in our public schools for the current year, I will say that the course followed is the one suggested in the state outline and supplemented by helps from the best publications bearing upon the subject.

The grade teachers have produced very satisfactory results from the children under their care. This was publicly seen at the annual exhibition held at High school hall last June.

A meeting is held each Monday night in the month for the grade teachers in Room 14, High school building, at four o'clock, at which time the outline for the coming month is given them and the work talked over and illustrated. The first and second grade teachers meet the first Monday in the month; the third and fourth grade teachers, the second Monday; the fifth and sixth grade teachers, the third Monday; and the seventh, eighth, and ninth grade teachers, the fourth Monday. A record of attendance at these meetings is kept and a brief outline of the work laid out is also recorded.

For the High school the general outline has been nature work, through September and October; in November, Thanksgiving work; and in December, Christmas work; through January, February and March, still-life and conventionalized designs; in April, May and June returning again to nature work.

The mechanical drawing classes have been interesting. The text book used is by Anson K. Cross. From the study of this book and the careful copying of the propositions therein, some original work has been done, such as designing, on a small scale, a boat, a motor cycle, and an automobile. These original designs, which have been made by the boys, have been inked by them and afterward blue-printed.

Grateful acknowledgement is extended to all who have aided in bringing about these results.

Respectfully submitted,

ABBY HARLAN JEWETT.

LACONIA PUBLIC LIBRARY.

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council of Laconia:

The undersigned, trustees of the Laconia public library, herewith transmit to you the reports of the librarian and treasurer for the year ending December 31, 1909, on the part of the librarian, and for the year ending February on the part of the treasurer, and respectfully submit them with the following explanation of the expenditure of money on hand at the end of last year, $2,130.44.

Paid for renovating the interior of the library . $ 652.20

Paid for Lakeport branch, as follows:

Supplies	$ 3.70
Trip tickets and car fare of librarian . .	6.32
Transporting books	64.55
Cartage, labor, etc.	8.55
Furniture and equipment	189.04
Books	120.50
Salary of Mrs. Sargent	323.00
Periodicals	32.00
Fuel	49.50
Telephone service	16.10
Tungsten lamps	14.92
Electric lighting	16.32
Inverted mantles	5.10
Gas lighting	34.42
Fixtures for gas lighting	20.39
	<hr/>	900.41
Insurance on Laconia building		462.50
Total		<hr/> $2,015.11

Leaving of this sum on hand, unexpended and available for other expenses, but $115.33

Of the expenses at the Lakeport branch the past year, the expenditures for fitting up the building, $227.15, may be deducted, which shows that the expense of running this branch for the part of the year after we assumed it as a branch was $676.26, including $152.50 paid out for books and periodicals. This expense will be some larger the coming year because the past year has not been a full year.

The following expenses will not have to be incurred for the ensuing year:

Fitting up the Lakeport branch	$ 227.15
Renovating the Laconia building and lamps . .	680.40
Insurance on Laconia building	462.50
	$1,370.05

The receipts have been:

Cash on hand at beginning of year	2,130.44
From Gale fund	2,602.92
City appropriation	1,000.00
Miscellaneous sources	278.86
Total	$5,012.22

Deducting expenses named above which will not have to be paid next year	1,370.05
	<hr/>

Leaves a balance of	$4,642.17
-------------------------------	------------

This shows there will be needed for running expenses and the same expenditure for books and periodicals, the sum of $4,642.17. The Gale fund will furnish $2,602.92, and this shows that $2,039.25 must come from the city.

But the expenditure for books and periodicals was cut down by reason of the $1,000 appropriation from the city from $869.45 in 1908 to $753.59 in 1909. Out of this money. $753.59 for books, paid out in 1909, there was paid out $169.58 for reference books, mostly for the Lakeport branch, so that the amount spent for circulating books was but $613.59. This means that the amount paid out for books to circulate was cut from $869.45 to $613.59 or $255.86. The result has been a severe decline in the total circulation of the library and much complaint by its patrons because the books purchased this year were so few in number as compared with last year.

It must be borne in mind, however, that a full year's expense at Lakeport will show quite an increase over the part of the past year during which the branch has been open. It is also in our opinion absolutely necessary that we should increase our expense for books for the coming year to at least the amount expended in 1908; it should exceed it so that the three years, 1908, 1909 and 1910, should at least be equal to the 1908 expense. We are also in doubt as to the amount of money that will be needed for fuel and light at Lakeport for a full year.

We also have at Laconia unpaid bills in excess of $80.00 and have had to postpone one bill for fuel amounting to over $150.00 until March, for lack of funds to pay it.

In view of all these facts, we respectfully recommend that the sum of $3,000.00 be appropriated for the ensuing year.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN.

To the Honorable Board of Trustees of the Public Library:

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to present to you my seventh annual report for the calendar year, 1909. If statements or statistics found in this report are compared with the report of the Treasurer, a disagreement will be noticed because his report is for the fiscal year ending a month and a half later. It is not possible to include in this report statistics to February 15th and have it printed with the other city reports.

During the year the work of the library was greatly expanded, while the income from the city was only half what it had been. With the expectation that the usual appropriation of two thousand dollars would be received from the city, you decided to open a branch library at The Ossian Wilbur Goss Reading Rooms at Lakeport in the sixth ward. A little later Hon. C. A. Sulloway designated this library as the one in his district to receive all the publications of the national government. If the acceptance of this offer could have been delayed a few years, until the work of cataloging could be completed to date, this would have been done. However, the value of the government publications is so great, it seemed best to accept the designation at this time. If some other library had been selected, this library could never become a depository unless there should be a change in the law or some other depository in the state should surrender its privilege. Mr. Sulloway has frequently manifested his interest in this library and has always promptly responded to any request. Still later a nearly complete set of Specifications and drawings of patents was offered and accepted. It was necessary to build special cases for these in the basement. Much time has been spent in arranging these government publications and in teaching Miss Phillips to catalog and arrange them. Some use has already been made of them and they will be used more and more as the people learn how much valuable information they contain.

A case has been placed in Memorial hall and Mr. Jewell's exceedingly valuable collection of Indian relics has been arranged in it. Many visitors come to see this collection. One teacher brought her pupils in a body and they seemed very much interested.

An attempt has been made to obtain time tables and other information about the principal land and water transportation companies of this country.

While something has been accomplished, very much more needs to be done before the city can have the benefits enjoyed by a great many other cities of its size or smaller. The revolving book cases, voted in 1908, have not been purchased. It has been necessary to use the table on which new books were formerly displayed, so comparatively few books can be kept where they may be examined by patrons. At least two of the largest size of revolving book cases should be placed in front of the delivery counter and these should be kept full of new books or carefully selected old ones so that patrons who do not like to use the card catalog or to trouble the desk attendant may make their own selections. Our building was not designed to give the public access to the shelves, but much would be gained if a thousand new and selected old volumes could be consulted freely by the public. I am very sure that more people would draw books if they could examine them. The celestial and terrestrial globes that I have previously recommended have not been purchased, owing to the reduced appropriation. No one can form a correct conception of the relation of two places remote from one another from a map. A good celestial globe might interest some young people in the study of astronomy.

Neither the children nor their elders can enjoy the fullest benefits from the library while they must use the same reading and study rooms. The younger children can hardly be expected to keep so quiet as not to disturb older people. Many of the students in our High school have no suitable place where they can study in quiet or where they can meet other students and study in company. Some conversation between students studying together is almost necessary. These would be disturbed by the younger children and in turn would disturb other readers. When so much is wisely spent for the education of the young in this city, it is very much to be regretted that a room can not be provided where students can study without disturbing older people, or being disturbed by children. If the children's room in the basement could be fitted up for their use and a suitable person could be placed in charge, the future of our city would be benefited beyond anyone's conception. We realize more or less the evils of a street education. The city expends many thousands of dollars to educate the children of the city and yet a very large number of them are ruined morally and physically by their associations out of school. If they come to the library, they cause more or less disturbance. Either they must be sent out to be corrupted on the streets, or older people are driven away from the library. Who can estimate the benefit to the future of our city if an attractive room could be provided for the children where a wise and tactful lover of children could welcome them, read to them, tell them stories, encourage them to read good books and keep them off the streets away from corrupting influences? Not all the children could be won and saved, but a certain proportion could be taught to love the good and beautiful and who can measure the effect upon the future?

The librarian has long been anxious to come into closer touch with the public schools. He wants to know the teachers, learn their needs and supply them. He wants to provide a collection of books for every schoolroom. He desires to talk to every child or student in all the schools.

of the city, public, private and parochial. He cannot find time for this while he must buy, classify and catalog all new books and all the old ones not yet cataloged, attend to all the correspondence, do a large part of the reference work, and personally oversee the work of two libraries a mile apart. He wants to build up the library more symmetrically in all departments. He cannot do this while the money available for books is so small that he is allowed to buy only the most popular books. If he suggests the purchase of some book of a technical character which is expensive and may never be used, the title is usually rejected. With so little money for books, this may be advisable, but he believes that it would be money well invested for the city if fifty dollars were spent for technical works and even one young man should study those books and get a start in life that would enable him to make the most of himself. Mr. Carnegie has given many millions of dollars for public library buildings because of the benefit he received from a public library while he was struggling upward. One invention that would establish a new industry in Laconia would be worth the cost of a large technical library. Is it economy to exempt new industries from taxation and to spend large sums to induce business firms to locate here, and yet neglect to provide books that would almost certainly result in new enterprises? Only a small proportion of those who start in the lowest grade of our schools graduate from our high school. Many must stop going to school and go to work. If it is wise to provide the higher education for those who can continue, is it not even more important to provide for the further education of those who must drop out? Evening schools are provided in our larger cities. Can any taxpayer begrudge his small contribution to provide books that will enable the brightest and best of our working people to continue their education after they leave school? The money that would be spent for an evening school would provide books that would enable many boys and girls to educate themselves. One correspondence school finds it profitable to hire an office and keep an agent here. Why should not the city provide the necessary books for self instruction? Is not the city richer and better for every one who is striving to increase his store of knowledge? It is well to provide parks and music and recreative reading for our citizens. Why stop here? Shall we not say to every ambitious boy or girl, man or woman: If you will make an effort to educate yourself, the city will provide all the books you need. Will anyone question the statement of Sir Horace Plunkett in the Outlook that "It is a truism to say that democracy requires for success a higher level of intelligence and character in the mass of the people than other forms of government"?

We greatly need a lecture hall. Shall we confess that our city is intellectually below the level of other cities of our size? Other cities are providing university extension courses in connection with their libraries. Why should we not have a course of lectures every winter, free to all who will attend? The expense would not be great. We have a village improvement society in the sixth ward. It is doing good work. Can it find a more fruitful field for effort than the education of those who have been compelled to go to work before they had obtained even a high school education?

I have mentioned a few of our urgent needs because there is evidence that our city government is not aware of them. I have been told by members of the council, that we did not need an appropriation because we have an endowment. Another tells me that the council had no thought of crippling the library by giving us only half of our usual appropriation. Another has told me that he did not doubt that the full amount would have been appropriated if the council had known the facts as I stated them to him. Members of the council from the sixth ward voted to cut down our appropriation, although every dollar of the city appropriation was used for the benefit of that ward. I speak of this because I am a native of that ward and the interests of that ward are, and always will be, dear to me. In another place I will describe the work in and for that ward. I wish now to explain just what was the result of the cut in the appropriation this past year.

A careful study of the situation will convince anyone that certain running expenses are constant from year to year. A saving could be made by dismissing the librarian and putting in charge one who has had no training in modern library methods. While there may be a doubt whether this would result in ultimate saving, it could be tried. The hours of opening could be cut down so as to save the salary of one attendant, although a substitute would need be employed much more than at present. If the library were open but one evening in the week, something could be saved in the expense of lighting. The work at the Lakeport branch could be abandoned and the rooms closed as they were for a time after the building was completed. If such impaired service would satisfy the demands of the patrons, a considerable saving would be effected. On the other hand, if the present standard of efficiency and hours of service are to be continued, the expenses for salaries, fuel and lights, and the proper care of the buildings can scarcely be reduced. If insufficient funds are provided, what results? Practically the only expenditure that is affected by the reduced appropriation, is the amount available for the purchase of new books.

Nine hundred and twenty eight books, costing $1031, were bought in 1908. Only 318 books, costing $447.91, were bought in 1909. Of these, 31 were reference books bought for the Lakeport branch. Of those bought in 1908, 172 were bought so late in the year that they did not begin to circulate in any considerable numbers that year, but they caused a gain of over 7% in the circulation for January of last year, and of 15 issues in February.

No new books were bought in 1909 until May, when the only considerable purchase of the year was made and 167 new books were added. Therefore the circulation in March showed a loss of about 2% compared with 1908. The loss in April was over 6%. The new books in May caused a gain of over 6% in that month and of nine issues in June. By that time, the cut in the appropriation was known and only 50 books in September and 13 in December were bought for circulation. It was not safe to buy more until it could be known how much would be required for running expenses. The losses in circulation when compared with the previous year were as follows: July 7%, August 12%, September 10%, October 17%, November 15% and December 19%. Notwithstanding the gains in the earlier months, the net loss in circulation for the year was over 6%. This is written in February and the figures for January 1910 are available. They show a loss of 1124 issues, or more than 28%, as compared with the first month of 1909. These figures do not include the circulation from the branch library, but the gain in the earlier months was based on the circulation of the main library, and it seems reasonable to suppose that it would have continued if new books had been added from time to time in as large numbers as before. Another indication that the loss of circulation was due to the lack of new books is to be found in the circulation of books classed under useful arts. All books of this class are bought from the income of the Avery fund, so the usual number were bought in 1909. The gain in the circulation of this class of books was 273, or 42%. Part of the gain is doubtless due to the fact that the second lot of books of this class was bought so late in 1908 that they increased the circulation in the early part of 1909. The steady gain in the use of books of this class shows what can be done by buying the best books in classes other than fiction and displaying them where they can be examined.

Mr. Carnegie requires of every city or town which he provides with a library building a contract that a sum equal to 10% of what he gives shall be raised annually for the support of the library. There is much complaint that 10% is insufficient. Many libraries find that the 10% is required for running expenses and the maintenance of the building and that there is little or nothing left for the purchase of books. If our library building had been presented by Mr. Carnegie, the city would have been obligated to raise $6500 annually for its maintenance. Is it wise to say, in effect, to anyone contemplating a gift or bequest to our city: Whatever you may give will benefit the taxpayers. You cannot benefit the city by your money. If you give money for any public utility the city will raise just so much less, but the city will gain nothing otherwise by your generosity. According to the latest reports at hand, Berlin appropriates $1700 for its library, Concord $5000, Dover $5600, and Rochester $3000. Is there any good reason why Laconia should not provide at least as much as Rochester for its library? Again, let us consider the matter from a business standpoint. About $2000 a year in addition to the income from the endowment is necessary to keep the two libraries at their present standard of efficiency without leaving anything for the purchase of new books. The rapid decline in circulation shows the effect of such economy. With $1000 a year spent wisely in the purchase of all classes of books for all classes of our people, the circulation could be doubled in a very few years. The city owns a plant costing above $65,000. Shall the city fail to get the benefit of it by failing to provide the money necessary for its efficient use? One hundred and thirty-nine more books were charged out a year ago than at this writing. If the patrons who complain to the desk attendants because there are no new books and they can not find any books that they want to read, would make the same complaint to those who control the finances of the city, the councilmen would better realize the real need of the library.

The city, and more especially the library, met with a very great loss in the death of Mr. Jewell. He was a trustee almost continuously from the institution of the library. Without his efforts and tact, the city would not have had the fine building and generous endowment it now has. He always felt a deep interest in the library. He was particularly interested in history, and practically all of the rare and valuable works of that class in the library were purchased by him or at his suggestion. The Peter Force tracts and the Collections of the Massachusetts historical society are worth far more than he paid for them. His fine collection of Indian relics in Memorial hall will always be a reminder of his great interest in everything connected with the history of the aborigines. His genial countenance and entertaining conversation are sadly missed.

Your standing appropriation for binding periodicals or buying missing volumes was used in acquiring a bound set of Scribner's monthly, and for binding the remaining unbound volumes of the Atlantic monthly, a complete set of World's work, the issues of the Scientific American and Scientific American supplement since 1903, a set of our high school magazine, the Lakonian, and the completed volumes of the magazines in our bound sets. Miss Busiel, the assistant librarian, donated the earlier volumes of World's work and the Lakonian. Miss Alice M. Pease kindly supplied the missing numbers of the Lakonian. The bound volumes of the periodicals have often furnished information on topics not otherwise treated in a satisfactory manner in the library. Two hundred and ninety-nine volumes classed as general works were loaned from the two libraries. These were nearly, if not quite, all bound volumes of periodicals. Some standard works that should be in the library can be supplied only in bound periodicals. In other cases where more than one copy is needed for school use, the bound periodical supplies an additional copy.

The publishers of the Laconia Democrat gave us bound volumes of the paper for 1902 and 1903. The bound sets of our local papers will be invaluable to future historians of our city. They are often consulted by those searching for dates or the facts of historical events.

An inquiry for Vol. 29 of the State papers led to the discovery that it had been published, but no copy had been received at this library. Through the kindness of Mr. Chase and the Trustees of the state library, the missing volume has been received and our set completed.

Ex-Mayor Knight, our new Trustee, manifested his interest in the library by presenting six very old and rare books associated with this and neighboring towns.

Miss Busiel took the annual inventory as usual and succeeded in accounting for every book, including one of the two missing a year before. The other was doubtless stolen from the reference collection. This is the only book known to have been stolen from the building in six years. Single numbers of periodicals have been taken from the reading room. Miss Busiel has also kept the record of pamphlets received as usual and has prepared an index of the more important complete works published serially in some of our bound periodical sets.

Miss Phillips has taken charge of the pamphlets and serials received from the national government. She has cataloged by subjects the more important pamphlets.

The accumulation of unbound periodicals had become so large that it was difficult to keep the issues in proper order so as to find what was wanted easily. To remedy this, three lists were prepared. Those that were to be bound were placed by themselves so that the completed volumes could be sent to the bindery promptly. The second list included all others that are indexed in the Reader's guide, the Library index, or the Magazine subject index. All the others currently received were placed in the third list. All the issues of the first and second list will be retained for the present and are so arranged that any issue can be found promptly. The numbers of the third list are retained during the year of issue and the year following. They are then examined and all the material that seems likely to be useful in reference work is removed and placed in envelopes containing material on the same subject. These envelopes are arranged by subjects and are expected to afford valuable assistance to readers and students. The remainder of these periodicals are then destroyed or sold as waste paper. Mr. Fernald, the janitor, has done all the work in this department.

For several years pictures have been saved that might be useful in the children's room when we have one. Mr. Fernald has added to this collection from the serials in the third list. Suitable mounts have been obtained, and Miss Jones, our Saturday evening attendant and substitute, has begun mounting these pictures.

Previous to May 4, 1909, all books received from any department of the national government were treated as gifts and were accessioned and counted as additions to the library. On that date notice was mailed to the superintendent of documents that the designation of this library as a depository by Hon. C. A. Sulloway was accepted. As all publications sent to libraries by the superintendent of documents were stamped "Property of the United States Government", it was decided to treat all government publications as loans after that date. As soon as practicable, a careful count of all government publications in the library will be made and their number will be reported separately.

The interior of the building was thoroughly renovated during the year without interfering with the use of the library, except that the study room and the reading room could not be occupied for a few days in each case. There was no time, however, during library hours when any periodical or any reference book was inaccessible.

A large painting called "The Candy vender" executed by Camilla De Bitskey, after the original in the Metropolitan museum of New York city, was presented to the library in memory of Oliver Noyes Flanders by his son, Mr. Owen F. Flanders, of Boston, April 15, 1909. For the present this painting hangs in Memorial hall, but it is intended for the children's room when that is in use. Other donations of the year were as follows. To each person named the thanks of the library are hereby extended.

LAKEPORT BRANCH.

At a meeting of the Trustees of the Laconia public library, on the first day of March, 1909, in response to a written request by the Trustees of The Ossian Wilbur Goss Reading Rooms, it was voted to establish a branch library at Lakeport in ward 6. It was voted to purchase an atlas, a dictionary, a set of the Nature library, a map of New Hampshire, a map of the United States, a map of the world, and an encyclopaedia. It was also voted to send such duplicates as could be spared from the main library and to contribute such financial support as might be necessary for the maintenance of a branch library. The librarian was instructed to establish the branch in accordance with the vote. He was also told by the President of the Board of trustees of The Ossian Wilbur Goss Reading Rooms that the building and the books therein and those sent there from the main library were as much under his control as the main building and its contents.

The rooms have been open to the public since the 8th of April, 1907. Mrs. Sargent had been in charge of them. They had been kept open every week-day from 10 A. M. to 1 P. M., from 2 to 5 and from 6 to 9 P. M., except that they were open at 9 A. M. and closed at 8 P. M. for about a year. A few periodicals had been subscribed for and a few books and periodicals had been given by citizens. Since the 2d of March, 1908, the thirteen periodicals named on page 88 of the city report for 1909 were sent from the Laconia public library after each had been on file there until another number was received. Mrs. Sargent had kept the rooms very neat and attractive and had given such good satisfaction as custodian that she was engaged as librarian of the branch library although she had had no experience in library work. As the citizens of that ward had had no library of their own since the books from their library had been moved to the Gale Memorial Library in June, 1903, they were very anxious to have the branch open as soon as possible. Mrs. Sargent received some instruction at the loan desk of the main library during that week. A list of duplicate books was prepared. On the sixth of March the first boxes of books were sent from the main library, and four page announcements were distributed to all the homes of the ward. Monday, March 8th, one week after the vote was passed, the Lakeport branch of the Laconia public library was in running order.

Arrangements had been made to have a messenger make one round trip each week-day from the branch to the main library and back. The system then inaugurated provides that applications for library cards may be filled out at the branch. This application is sent to the main library the next morning and a library card is ready at the branch at 2 p. m. that day. If a book is wanted from the main library, a number card is sent with the application and the first book is sent up with the library card. Any library card can be used at the main library or at the branch. A book may be drawn at either library and returned at the other. Any book in either library may be drawn from either library.

A convenient charging desk, built to order by the Library bureau, has been placed near the entrance, so the librarian can see any part of the main reading room, nearly all of the rest room, and the doors leading to the basement and the toilet room. Seven hundred and fifteen works of fiction and 309 classed books have been placed on open shelves. Five out of every forty books, except documents, reference books and such as would not be likely to be used, added to the main library since January 1, 1908, were sent to the branch to stay six weeks or more. After that, another list of five out of every forty books was prepared and these were gradually changed for the books in the first list. Forty volumes are listed on each page of the accessions book. The intention is to send in succession five of the books listed on each page of this book. The books are charged to the branch and are kept on open shelves not less than six weeks before they are returned to the main library. In the meantime they may be drawn in the same manner as any books in the permanent collection. By this plan every desirable book that is added to the main library is available at the branch within sixteen months, or may be drawn from the main library by number card at any time when it is on the shelves of the main library. Numbers of new books may be copied from lists in the local papers, or from the bulletins on file at the branch. Twenty bulletins, listing both old and new books, are on sale at 5c each at both libraries. Catalog cards for all new books are prepared when they are cataloged and a card catalog of these books will be placed in the branch library as soon as the money is available for a catalog case. With the present staff it is not practicable to duplicate the complete card catalog at the main library.

During the first weeks after the branch was opened, the librarian spent a great many hours there instructing Mrs. Sargent in her duties and seeing that the most urgent needs were supplied. Later he made it a rule to visit the branch regularly every Friday afternoon. He would be pleased to meet any patron of the branch any Friday between 3.30 and 5 p. m.

The gas has been connected and inverted mantles installed. A leak was discovered and two of the fixtures were returned to the manufacturers to be repaired. Tungsten lamps have been placed in the wall fixtures and the rest room. A conduit has been put in and a telephone for each system in an equipoise holder is within the reach of the librarian as she sits at her desk. The New England telephone is on the same line with the one at the main library, so that the librarians can communicate with each other without delay or interruption as there is no other telephone on the same line. Without this arrangement it would not have been possible to operate the branch with an inexperienced librarian in charge. The Citizens telephone makes it possible for any subscriber of that system to communicate directly with the branch and indirectly with the main library through the branch librarian.

The Village improvement society has done much for the branch library. If it had not been for its efforts in arousing public interest, the branch might not have been established for several years. Shade trees have been set out by public spirited citizens at the instigation of the society, and four useful articles of equipment have been provided by it. The Woman's Christian temperance union has furnished a fine mission wall clock that keeps excellent time.

Three hundred and fifty-nine persons drew books from the branch library, and 172 new borrowers registered from that ward during the year. The largest previous registration from that ward was 147 in the first half year. In the first five and a half years only 494 borrowers were registered from that ward. These figures show clearly the need of a library of easy access to the residents of Lakeport. Detailed facts and statistics are given below.

NINTH ANNUAL REPORT BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

To the Honorable Mayor and Council:

In presenting our ninth annual report we are pleased to report progress in the matter of street improvements and some good work has been done macadamizing and in other ways improving our streets and roads, all of which is given in detail by the report of the street commissioner and submitted herewith. The board again urges upon you the importance of providing sufficient funds to place a permanent surface upon Bank square and Railroad square as present conditions are an injury to the city from both a business and sanitary standpoint. We also desire to continue the macadam upon Court street and Union avenue. The appropriations asked for complete Court street to the State road, and Union avenue to the junction of Messer street. Other special appropriations are for such work as we deem necessary for the improvement of localities named.

Several bridges are in need of repairs or rebuilding of which we are unable to inform you definitely at this time, but will do so later. Departments under control of the board are in good condition, and the appropriations of last year were sufficient with the exception of that for engineering; this ought to be increased. We recommend the following amounts for the coming season's work.

General appropriation	$13,000.00
Re-covering concrete walks	1,000.00
Treating new roads with oil	700.00

J. H. STORY,

JULIUS E. WILSON,

G. H. TILTON,

Board of Public Works.

REPORT OF STREET COMMISSIONER.

To the Board of Public Works:

Gentlemen: I have the honor of presenting the following report for the year 1909-10 for your approval.

During the year the department lost the services of Mr. John D. Fifield, foreman of Division 1. Mr. Fifield was a very capable and conscientious foreman, but felt obliged to resign to accept a more responsible position in another state.

I will cover briefly the following principal features of the work of this department for the past year.

BRIDGES AND CULVERTS.

Church street bridge.—I called your attention in my last annual report to the condition of the Church street bridge, and you requested of the city council an appropriation for the rebuilding of the same, recommending a reinforced concrete structure that could be built for $14,000 or less. As authorized by the city council, April 26th, 1909, you prepared plans, estimates and advertised for bids for the construction of a reinforced concrete bridge. You submitted the bids received to the council with the recommendation that the bid of Fred T. Ley & Co. of Springfield, Mass., for $13,000 be accepted. The council laid this communication on the table and finally appropriated the sum of $2,450.00 for repairs to the present structure.

As you directed, I commenced the work of repairing the bridge on September 21st, 1909, and finished about October 21st. The bridge was closed to public travel about two weeks, but a foot bridge was maintained at all times. I found, when the deck was taken off, that there was scarcely a sound timber in the whole structure. Some of the main timbers were so badly decayed that when the floor was removed they fell into the river before they could be secured. As a result new material was used throughout with the exception of the mudsills, railings and a few sound stringers under the northerly sidewalk. The Laconia Street railway furnished the heavy stringers under the rails of their track, and the labor of two men to place them in position. The roadway of the bridge was given a wearing coat of tar concrete. The total cost to the city was $2,038.21. This structure should last for ten or twelve years, under the amount of traffic that it is now getting, but the sidewalks and railings will have to be renewed oftener.

Fair street bridge.—This bridge was partially rebuilt in 1907. About one-half of the stringers were put in new, caps repaired, and a new sidewalk built. The floor was laid with two thicknesses of plank, viz: 3 inch on bottom and two inch on the surface. About the first of July, 1909, my attention was called to the bad condition of this bridge. I found that the roadway had settled more than a foot in places, caused by the buckling and jamming together of the main posts. Heavy loads of green oak logs were being drawn across, the bridge was overloaded and the posts buckled. It was doubtless saved from collapsing by the heavy double skin floor recently laid. Repairs were made by jacking the bridge up, reinforcing the posts and putting in new lateral braces. This bridge will doubtless last three or four years without extensive repairs.

Beacon street bridge.—This bridge gave out early in the season and was repaired by putting in many new stringers and a complete new floor. It ought to last four years.

Messer street bridge.—During the summer a hole was broken through the plank flooring, and it was repaired by putting a second layer of two inch plank over the roadway so that it will go through the winter, but the bridge is generally in bad condition, and I think it will have to be extensively repaired or a new bridge built the coming season. This bridge, as well as the Elm street bridge, caught fire during the summer, and but for the prompt response of the fire department, would have been destroyed or considerably injured.

Gold street bridge.—This bridge is getting seriously decayed in many of its members and the sidewalks are getting especially bad. It was found necessary to replank the northerly walk in December of this year, but the bridge should have a thorough overhauling and repairs the coming summer.

The Main street bridge is beginning to show signs of decay and it will be a question of only a short time before repairs will have to be made.

The bridges over Jewett brook, on Davis place, were repaired during the summer but are in poor condition.

The bridge over Black brook on Union avenue was replanked during the year, but I would recommend that it be replaced with a steel concrete bridge at the earliest possible opportunity.

The bridge over Durkee brook on Court street, is getting to be very weak and, although re-planked last year, should be replaced with a steel concrete structure as soon as possible.

Highland street bridge.—Although Highland street extension has been practically brought to grade, it could not be opened to public travel as no money was provided for the construction of a bridge. November 29, 1909, an appropriation was made for this work and the bridge can be built the coming season if you so direct.

A culvert 54 feet long and 22 inches in diameter, was built on Woodland street extension. Many minor repairs were made to bridges not mentioned and other culverts built and repaired.

CLEANING STREETS AND CATCH-BASINS.

Great care was given to the cleaning of drains and catch-basins, and 263 loads of waste was taken from them during the year. No serious blockages occurred in the surface sewers. The paved streets were cleaned at regular intervals and an effort was made to keep all streets clean. The throwing of refuse into street and alleyways is a practice that should be discouraged by all.

DRAINS.

The following drains were built in 1909:

A temporary drain was built on Belvidere street, until such time as an appropriation shall be made to care for the surface water on this street.

A portion of the Court street drain was found to be nearly filled with the roots of trees and, as it came under the proposed pavement, it was taken up and relaid. The old catch-basins were re-located and rebuilt and some new ones added. The culvert crossing the street at Orange court, was found to be practically filled, and it was taken out and an 20 inch pipe culvert put in its place.

The drain in Main street, from the river, was continued southerly by the laying of 250 feet of 12 inch pipe and 96 feet of 6 inch pipe. Four catch-basins and one manhole were built.

The drain on Union avenue, south of Bridge street, was continued northerly, across said street; 212 feet of 8 inch pipe and 40 feet of 6 inch pipe were laid, 2 catch-basins and 1 lamp hole were built.

Several catch-basins, in various parts of the city were either built new or remodeled, and modern grates put on them. There was no appropriation made for surface sewers on Gale avenue and Pleasant street, Whipple avenue and on north Main street, but these sewers are very much needed. The High street drain should be extended and there is great need for a drain on Tower street, at The Weirs.

GENERAL REPAIRS AND COUNTRY ROADS.

The item, general repairs, covers the smaller pieces of work whose total cost did not seem to warrant special mention and the necessary repairs to the outlying roads. The roads are in good condition, with some few exceptions; those in the so-called up-town district being especially good. The main road to Meredith or north Main street, from Oak street to the N. H. School for Feeble Minded, is one of the heaviest traveled roads in the city and is probably in the worst condition. The local material is very poor, rather sandy, and has small binding qualities so that it does not stand up under the traffic. Any lasting repairs to this road must be made in a comprehensive way and a considerable sum of money is required. I think a sand-clay road could be built here that would wear for some time. The policy of putting ashes, collected by the scavenger service, on sandy roads has been continued with excellent results.

MAIN STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

Curbing was set in front of the Stratton-Harriman property on Main street, the gutter paved and a new sidewalk built to conform to the lately established street line. Curbing was set in front of the new Woolworth store and the sidewalk re-concreted. As no appropriation was made for Bank square, nothing could be done to relieve the condition of the most important square in the city.

OILING ROADS.

I treated 16,500 square yards of macadam road with Standard road oil, used at the rate of about four-tenths gallons per square yard, at a cost of 2.36 cents per yard. The above cost includes the rigging of a special sprinkler and all labor and material. The oil was applied during the latter part of June and gave excellent results, up to the time that snow came. The roads treated are, however, subjected to a heavy automobile traffic, and I think that it is very necessary that they be given another treatment as soon as the weather will permit. I also treated a portion of the tar macadam road to flush coat, using three different materials for the same, viz., "Asphalt oil A," "Asphalt oil B," and "Tarvia A." As they were used on areas adjacent and subject to the same conditions the results will give a fair idea of the relative value of the several materials.

I would advise that your board ask for an appropriation to cover the cost of oiling macadam roads and treating the tar macadam, already laid, with a seal coat of some bituminous material. The cost is relatively small and the treatment will more than double the life of the pavement.

REGULATING STREETS.

Two new streets, Edwards and Fairview, were graded as far as the appropriations for the same would permit.

A culvert was built and some grading done on Woodland street, in anticipation of an appropriation. The work on this street was stopped by freezing weather.

The appropriation for the grading of Belknap, Central and Lyford streets was spent on that work but more is needed for drain, retaining wall and sidewalks.

SCAVENGER SERVICE.

This work was continued as before and 1,588 loads of waste and ashes were collected and disposed of at a cost of 71.3 cents per load. The need of a public dump is still a matter for consideration.

SIDEWALKS.

A tar and stone sidewalk was built on Highland street from Spring street nearly to Batchelder street at a cost of 40 cents per square yard, including all materials and the grading. About 100 feet of the same kind of walk was built on Union avenue, near No. 631.

Crushed stone sidewalks were built on Oak and Mathews streets. A concrete sidewalk was built on Pleasant street from Tremont street, southerly.

MACADAM STREETS.

Two sections of tar macadam were laid in 1909, namely, on Court street and Union avenue. The total area laid was 6,528 square yards and the total cost was $4,899.66 or 75 cents per square yard. The increased cost over the work of 1908 was caused by the fact that one-half gallons per square yard more Tarvia was used. The price of Tarvia was somewhat more as was also the price of labor.

The bituminous macadam already laid is giving very good results indeed, at a moderate cost, and I see no reason why this class of work should not be continued. If it were possible to have more of this work to do in one season, the department could be supplied with an especially designed sprinkling cart, buy the material in tank cars, and do away with the use of barrels; the price per square yard could be materially reduced.

I would suggest that a good tar macadam laid on Pleasant street from Water street to the Boston and Maine tracks would not be very expensive and wear for a sufficient time to justify the cost.

STATE AID ROAD.

An appropriation of $1,000 was made for work on The Weirs road and a similar amount received from the state. This money was expended in widening and straightening the travelled way and reducing the grades. Local material was used for surfacing. This road is now in very good condition and should last some years without extensive repairs.

There are uncollected bills due the city to the amount of $1,255.44, the greater portion of which is charged to the Laconia Street Railway company for that portion of the tar macadam pavement surrounding their tracks.

In closing, I wish to thank you for your courtesy, and the foremen and men in the department for faithful service.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES A. FRENCH,

Street Commissioner.

REPORT OF CITY ENGINEER.

To the Board of Public Works:

Gentlemen: The demands on the department of engineering were heavier than usual the past year. The appropriation given was far from being adequate to cover the expense of the work done, and as a consequence I have been obliged to charge much of the work to the various appropriations requiring it.

The preparing of the plans and specifications for the construction of a reinforced concrete bridge at Church street necessitated a draft on the contingent fund of the city council, and various construction jobs contributed their proportion to the deficit.

I again wish to call your attention to the great need of a more systematic survey of parts of the city, the preparation of a complete set of plans of the city and also of assessors' plans.

A brief summary of the work done by this department the past year follows:

Surveys.—Church street bridge, Fair street bridge, Fairview street for layout, Fenton avenue for layout, Holman street extension, Main street for widening opposite Masonic temple, Messer street bridge, New Salem street sewer, North Main street from Oak street to Barnum estate, Pleasant street from Oak to Main street, sewer from Pine to Cottage street, Union avenue.

Surveys and Grades Given.—Court street drain and culvert, sewer for Sacred Heart school, Union avenue drain.

Levels Taken.—Belknap street, Central street, Court street Fenton avenue, Highland street, Lyford street, North Main street, Oak street, Pleasant street.

Grades Given.—Court street, macadam; Edwards street, grading; Fairview street, grading; Highland street, sidewalk; Lyford, Central and Belknap streets, grading; Main street, curbing (Harriman's); Main street, curbing (Woolworth's); Mathews street, sidewalk; Oak street, sidewalk; Story's sewer, Pleasant street, Whipple avenue.

Locations Given for Water and Gas Mains.—Avery street, Central street, Cross street, Fairview street, Fenton avenue, Lyford street.

Locations given for poles for the various public service corporations, stone bounds set, measurements of concrete walks, paved streets, house numbers, etc. Plans made of streets, bridges, etc., and estimates made of the cost of construction of drains, sewers, grading, paving, sidewalks, bridges, and descriptions made for street layouts, establishment of grades, etc.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SEWERS.

To the Board of Public Works:

GENTLEMEN.—The sewerage system of the city is in good condition and has been flushed and carefully looked after at all times.

Two blockages occurred in main sewers during the year, but no damage was caused and the obstructions were promptly removed when discovered.

The Elliott street sewer was blocked during the summer and an examination disclosed that rags and bandages had been allowed access to the pipes.

The sewer on Union avenue, near Spring street, was blocked late in the fall and it was found necessary to excavate and open the sewer to remove the obstruction. A large bone, lodged in the pipe was found to be the cause of the trouble. Both blockages were manifestly caused by carelessness on the part of some one.

Several blockages in house connections were caused by tree roots growing into pipes through defective joints or by the putting of cloths or other prohibited articles into the plumbing fixtures.

None of the automatic flush tanks were in use during the year and no difficulty was experienced in the discontinuance of the same.

A considerable sum of money is saved yearly in water bills by the discontinuance with no detriment to the efficiency of the sewers.

There were 34 permits issued to connect with the public sewer and 132 permits to do plumbing were taken out. This is a considerable falling off in the number of permits issued to connect with the sewer and is a bad showing in view of the fact that there are still many houses on the sewer line which are not yet connected.

Several new houses were built last season on streets where there is no public sewer. There is a strong and growing demand for the construction of more sewers.

Some of the streets that are badly in need of sewers are, Cottage street and a part of Baldwin, Fenton avenue, Grant street and north Main street, where sewers could be readily built if the streets were brought to the proper grade. In connection with Fenton avenue, New Salem street could be sewerred if snfficient grading was done to Cross street.

Although a sewer has been built in Whipple avenue, it is still private and not under the control of the department because the process of acceptance of the street is still in the courts and the city has not yet paid for the sewer. I consider the extensions to the sewer system, here spoken of, a matter of great importance to the health and growth of the city.

PLUMBING.

While the number of sewer connections made has been smaller than past years the amount of plumbing done has been greatly increased and shows a steady and healthy growth of the city. The tendency is toward more and better fixtures as people appreciate the economy of good plumbing. Our plumbing rules are good and comprehensive and a strict observance of them is for the interest of all.

The duties of inspecting plumbing is steadily increasing from year to year, as is also the duty of making and filing the records.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

REPORT OF CHIEF ENGINEER.

LACONIA, N. H., February 5, 1910.

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

I herewith submit for your consideration the seventeenth annual report of the fire department for the year ending February 15th, 1910.

During the year there have been 76 calls on telephones and 31 box alarms. Insurance paid in the city of Laconia for fire losses, $4,495.54; estimated value of property in danger of fire, $174,500.

As chief engineer, I would make the following recommendations: 1st, That the weekly wages of the drivers be increased to $12.00 per week, with one night off for each. 2nd, That the city purchase two combination chemical hose wagons, one of these to be installed at the central fire station on Water street and the other one at Lakeport.

On account of the inflammable material, shingle roofs and wooden buildings all over the city, in a dry season with a strong wind blowing, we would be exposed to a conflagration resulting in immense destruction of life and property. With the proper apparatus this could be easily averted, as reports of fire chiefs throughout the country have testified to the fact that 95 per cent. of fires have been extinguished by the use of chemical engines.

If a fire should break out at night on Main street, it would be almost impossible to get ladders up to the windows in many of the buildings on account of the electric and telephone wires which wholly prevent a proper approach.

The insulation on the electric wires is stripped to an alarming extent, and as these conductors carry a high voltage, a constant danger to the fireman in the discharge of his duties is thus created, which no engineer having in mind the safety of those under his orders would care to ask them to face. Therefore I would recommend that the owners of these wires be notified by the proper authorities of the conditions as I have stated, and requested that immediate action be taken to the end that this menace, not only to the firemen, but to the public, as well, be removed. The proper installation of these wires in an underground conduit is of course the only solution.

The city is rapidly outgrowing the present system of hydrants and in the near future we must have larger water mains to meet the constantly increasing demands which are sure to be made upon them.

Hydrants should be located on Middle street, Lower Main street, Baldwin street extension and Gilford avenue.

I would further recommend that the city accept the proposition of the New Hampshire Board of Underwriters, which was made through the board of trade, that upon the completion of improvements specified by the board a ten per cent. reduction in fire insurance rates in the business section of the city would be granted.

The school buildings of the city have recently been inspected by the board of fire engineers, and in general have been found up to standard. The most noticeable exception is in the High school building on Academy street, there being piled in the basement of the building at times as large an amount as forty tons of soft coal. This, of course, is the source of a real hazard as spontaneous combustion is liable to ensue.

Owing to the increased cost of practically everything required in the maintenance of the department, I would respectfully ask for as large an appropriation as you feel that you can make.

We hereby certify that we have examined the foregoing accounts of John W. Ashman, treasurer for the year 1909, and find the same correctly cast with a proper voucher for each expenditure, with a balance in his hands of five hundred sixty-two dollars and fifty-two cents.

We also verified the account of the permanent funds and find such funds invested and the income for the year 1909 accounted for and shown by the book kept for that purpose.

REPORT OF CITY SOLICITOR.

To His Honor the Mayor of the City of Laconia, and Members of the City Council:

I have the honor to submit my report as city solicitor.

Of the litigated cases mentioned in my report last year, the Lake Company tax cases are still pending, also the case of Messrs. Tyler and Young relating to Whipple avenue, so-called.

At the November term of the Superior court for Belknap county an action was entered against the city in favor of Nellie Ballam to recover damages for personal injuries alleged to have happened at Church street bridge.

An action has recently been brought against the city by Ezra Page to recover damages for alleged negligence in the repair of streets, by reason of which he claims damage overflow and percolation of water. This case will be entered at the March term of the Superior court. The Ballam case has not been tried.

Other matters almost without number have been presented to this department for consideration, and all have received attention.

Very respectfully,

STEPHEN S. JEWETT,

City Solicitor.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

To the Mayor and City Council:

We herewith give a brief report of the city board of health for the year ending December 31, 1909.

Complaints investigated, 107. Contagious diseases—diphtheria, 7, none fatal; typhoid fever, 3, none fatal; measles, 51, 3 fatal.

Never since the city existed has there been so few contagious diseases in proportion to the population and so little expense.

Estimated expenses for coming year, five hundred dollars.

Respectfully submitted,

J. A. WRISLEY, M. D.,

FRED E. MOORE,

W. H. TRUE, M. D., Sec.

OVERSEERS OF POOR.

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

We submit herewith our report as overseers of poor.

Every call for aid has received prompt attention and each case fully investigated.

The few cases where assistance from the city is being granted at the present time, is where there is no bread winner in the family, and the greater part of expenditure in this department during the year has been to assist widows and fatherless children.

Although the city is enjoying a state of business prosperity, with work and wages for nearly every man who desires it, we shall without doubt have very needy ones among us, "for the poor always ye have with you."

Taking into account the growth of the city, as well as the one or two expensive items we now have in sight, it is our opinion that the sum of eight hundred dollars should be appropriated against the needs of this department.

Respectfully submitted,

FRED L. ROLLINS,

For Wards 2, 3, 4 and 5.

REPORT OF CITY AUDITOR.

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council of Laconia:

I have made a careful examination of the books and accounts of the city treasurer, city clerk, board of public works, treasurer of the public library and tax collector, and find them to be correctly cast, and vouchers for the same.

The notes, bonds and coupons that have been paid during the fiscal year just closing, have been cancelled, and have been carefully filed in envelopes, under seal, and certified to by the city clerk in my presence and are now in his custody, in the city safes.

You are to be congratulated that you have a substantial reduction in the city debt the past year, viz., $10,501.34.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR T. CASS,

City Auditor.

Feb. 24, 1910.
